Election Recount Requests Granted By County Board

Vote Tabulations Challenged In Election of Paint Township Trustee and School Board

Recounts in the general election for trustee of Paint Township and for the Board of Education of the Paint local school district have been ordered by the Fayette County Board of Elections.

The recounts were asked for by Guy Bumgarner, who lost election to the office of trustee of Paint Township by one vote, and Fred Burr, a write-in, who missed being named to the Paint school board by two votes.

The Board of Elections, meeting at its offices Monday night, granted the requests for the recounts.

Student Killer Just 'Amorous'

No Violent Quarrel Girl Tells Lawyer

COLUMBUS, Nov. 15 —(AP)—James E. Heer was "slightly amorous" when he said goodnight to Joyce Crafton a few minutes before he shot and killed Jack T. McKeown, an active in the Ohio State University Fraternity in which Heer was a pledge.

That was Miss Crafton's reply yesterday to the statement of a Columbus detective that the shooting was an aftermath of a rebuff she had given to the admitted slayer's improper advances.

Said Miss Crafton, 22, of Cleveland, through her attorney:

"There were no improper advances. There was no violent argument either at the dance or after it. He became slightly amorous while saying goodnight. That is all."

In her statement she denied that Heer was even angry when he left her.

Case For Grand Jury

A grand jury, probably next week, will consider a first-degree murder charge against Heer.

The Franklin County (Columbus) jury meets Monday, and, although the prosecuting attorney's office could not confirm it, the assumption was that the charge would be considered then.

Heer, a handsome, curly haired ex-marine from Euclid, O., is charged with fatally shooting McKeown, a journalism senior, after a homecoming dance early Saturday. McKeown's home was in Norwood, O., a Cincinnati suburb.

Heer is 20; McKeown was 21.

The fact that Heer was bound over to the grand jury on a first-degree murder charge does not necessarily mean that must stand trial on that charge. The grand jury can return an indictment, based on facts of the case, for either first-degree murder, second-degree murder, manslaughter or (Please turn to Page Two)

Now I know what kind of a winter we are going to have—maybe.

For weeks I had not seen the "Paint Valley Prophet" until Friday afternoon.

I ran across him on the street. I had been asked many times what had become of the "Paint Valley Prophet" and his forecast for the winter. He gave it to me.

"The remainder of November is going to be good, but some rugged weather will start in December and continue through January and February. It's going to be a late spring. I'll tell you later whether we are going to have a white Christmas."

"How do you know it's going to be a 'rugged' winter?" I asked.

"Well," he answered, "squirrels are burying more nuts than usual; honeybees stored a large amount of honey to tide them through; turtles are away back in the creek banks, and the muskrats are stopping up part of the openings to their homes."

"I know the rest of this month is going to be good," he said, because the crawdads are still out."

There is the weather in a nutshell and the whys and wherefores about it.

"Last year 'Pete' forecast a winter with zero weather, and gave his reasons. As a result a lot of folks bank on the word of the 'Paint Valley Prophet'."

Cheaper Goods From Europe are Now in Prospect

More Competition Tipped by President In Report on Aid

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15 —(AP)—President Truman today sent to Congress a Marshall Plan report declaring Europe must lower its prices to compete in the United States market for the American consumer's dollar.

"The United States, of course, must be willing to accept greater competition from European suppliers in order to help Europe pay its way," said the study prepared by the Economic Cooperation Administration.

Even if European sales in the United States were doubled—thus restoring Europe's pre-war share of this market—the volume would represent less than one per cent of this country's total output and would "only be scratching the surface of the American market," Congress was told.

Exports Important

"The participating countries must intensify their export drive to the dollar areas if they are to attain independence from extraordinary outside assistance," the report went on.

"This will require on that part of many European businessmen a reorganization of factory methods, installation of new and more efficient machinery in order to reduce costs, greater attention to merchandising and advertising, redesigning of products and packaging to suit American preferences, and a determination to serve American customers with the care and attention they receive from American producers."

It also will be necessary, the report said, for the Marshall Plan countries to give their exporters incentives to enter the tough American market. This will be done, as ECA Administrator Paul G. Hoffman has suggested, by letting the exporting companies keep a share of the dollars earned in export trade.

Warnings Emphasized

The report covered ECA operations up to July 1 of this year. It also emphasized the warnings voiced by Hoffman two weeks ago before the council of Marshall Plan countries in Paris: that recovery is imperiled by import controls and exchange restrictions which act as barriers to trade.

It repeated Hoffman's plea for the Economic Unification of Europe, noting some steps in that direction but declaring that progress "on the whole has been slow."

With reference to the problem of high European prices, it was stated: "devaluation of currencies was unavoidable if the gap between prices in the two parts of the western world was to be narrowed."

Favorable Side

On the more favorable side the report said:

Industrial production in the Marshall Plan countries reached a new peak in the second quarter of the year; the farm outlook indicated a probable record post-war production; foreign trade expanded—but not in the direction of the United States; inflation continued to abate.

"Stable democracies with a broad parliamentary basis have been brought into being and strengthened," the review continued.

"The communists have been put on the defensive throughout the free Nations of Western Europe."

Hunters Swarm over County

Washington C. H. was virtually turned into an armed camp early Tuesday morning when hundreds of hunters mingled on downtown streets preparatory to the opening of the pheasant and rabbit season at 9 A. M.

Hotels here reported that hunters collected here from Mansfield, Cincinnati, Columbus, Dayton, McArthur and many other Ohio cities Monday night to get an early start at Fayette County's pheasants today.

Meanwhile, stores reported a big rush on the purchase of hunting licenses Monday. One proprietor said that more than 300 licenses were sold during the past week.

There was a last-minute rush to the Record-Herald office by farmers for "No Hunting" signs to warn away the hordes of hunters who started beating the bushes at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning.

The pheasant hunters had a short ten days to get their quarry while the rabbit hunters had until Dec. 26.

Youngsters Hunt Too

Some county schools were letting students in small numbers take time out from their classroom studies to go hunting. At Madison Mills, for instance, lots had to be drawn by eager young hunters hopeful of getting out the opening day of the pheasant season.

Pheasant was king elsewhere too. Industries and downtown businesses here were granting some of their employees time off to get in on the small bird hunt.

The hunting craze was so strong Tuesday—with a bright sun and brisk day giving it impetus—that it was difficult to find anyone on his or her job.

Restaurants did a rushing business at breakfast time Tuesday, when hunters got loaded up with hot coffee and food needed to give them a good start.

During the day the fields all over Fayette County resounded with gunfire as the hunters moved in on the wily pheasant.

Although hunters swarmed in here for their opening day's sport afield, the consensus of those who have seen hunting seasons come and go was that they were not so numerous as in many previous years.

For one thing, farmers have tightened up on granting hunters permission to roam over their fields. The sale of more than 4,000—and there never was anything like that before here—"No Hunting" signs was an indication of the feeling of the farmers.

Residents of Washington C. H. and the other towns in the county, however, had little trouble in finding places to hunt. For the most part they joined friends who either owned farms or tenants. For the outsiders, it was different.

A few land owners were commercializing on hunting privileges. But they were reported far less numerous than a few years back.

What luck were the nimrods having? Some good; some bad. Many hunters were back in the city and ready to call it quits by noon. Others were still tramping over the fields. Some were empty handed; others had their limit. Everyone seemed in good spirits.

Pervert Is Hunted After Body of Girl Is Found Near Home

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 15 —(AP)—Her head crushed by an axe, six-year-old Linda Joyce Glucoft was found slain today in a few blocks from her home. Police broadcast a pickup order for a 67-year-old man.

The girl had been missing from the home of her parents, Jules and Lillian Glucoft, since yesterday afternoon.

Officers identified the man they sought as a known pervert, questioned only last April in a child molestation case, but released.

The chubby body was found by homicide detectives—who entered the case when a night-long search by neighbors and officers failed—jammed into a box covered with rubbish, debris and old boxes. It was in the backyard of a dwelling near her own home.

"It is unbelievable," screamed her mother, told of the discovery. Immediately one of the most intensive man-hunts in the city's history was begun for the fiendish slayer.

It was in that vicinity that the murders of Nina Martin and her sister Mae occurred in 1924—a case that led to the conviction of Scott C. Stone, a nightwatchman. The case was the city's most brutal child murder since 1946, when six-year-old Rochelle Gluskoter, daughter of butcher Abe Gluskoter, was kidnaped at play. Her body was found more than a year later in the hills, and although scores of persons have been questioned and one now is being held, no formal charges have ever been filed.

A first grade student at Crescent Heights School, Linda was last seen about 3:45 P. M. yesterday, Mrs. Glucoft told police.

"I got her dinner ready and called for her at 5 P. M. I got no answer, so I went out and asked the other children in the neighborhood but nobody had seen her."

Police said a six-foot high fence bordering on an alley is at the rear of the home where the body was found. Officers theorized it might have been tossed over the fence and into the pile of boxes where it was discovered.

Of the man police are seeking, Mrs. Glucoft told officers: "He had played with her, but he was so sweet and kind to her. He liked to give her candy."

Linda, four feet, two inches tall and weighing 65 pounds, was still wearing the blue plaid dress, red shoes and yellow socks in which she disappeared.

Police said a later examination would be required to determine if she had been molested.

Count Lausche Out Of Senatorial Race

COLUMBUS, Nov. 15 —(AP)—Count Gov. Frank J. Lausche out of the 1950 U. S. Senate race in Ohio, a reliable political source advised last night.

Lausche will take himself out of the race—which he never has confirmed he was in—by next Wednesday, the same source indicated.

The governor, a Democrat, wouldn't say yes and he wouldn't say no to the reports; that has been in his position ever since the broad negative hint he gave in a speech at Ohio Wesleyan University last spring.

In that speech, he hinted broadly and later called newsmen's attention to the hint—that he would not oppose the bid of Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) for re-election.

Hospital Completion Is Pressed by Board

Bids for Equipment Now Being Asked; Participation by Dealers Here Wanted

That the board in charge of construction and equipment for the new Fayette County Memorial Hospital proposes to push its work to complete the institution at the earliest possible date, was evident Monday night at its meeting in the hospital's temporary office at 148 South Main Street here.

All four members of the board, Ralph Nisley, George Pensyl, Colin Campbell and H. W. Burnett and the executive secretary, O. D. Farquhar, were present. Meeting with the board was Curtis Insko, the hospital architect, of the firm of Insko, Brand and Insko of Columbus, and Miss Christine Evans, consultant on equipment, who also is to be the administrator of the hospital when it opens.

Regardless of the loss, in the recent election, of the one-mill levy which was set up for operating purposes by the board of county commissioners and the new hospital board which is to have charge of operation, the other board takes the position that it is its duty to finish its work and have the hospital ready for occupancy as soon as possible, probably early in March.

The construction and equipment board indicates that it expects to have sufficient funds to complete and equip the hospital. It then turns the institution over to the new board.

Meantime, it is understood from the county commissioners, a meeting will be called soon between the commissioners and the new hospital board of trustees composed of Sam Parrett, George Campbell, Willard Bitzer and Herbert Hoppes. The county auditor, Ulric Acton and probably the county prosecutor, Clark Wickensimer, may be in attendance. At this session, it is said some decision may be reached as to whether the county will be able to find a way to finance the early operation of the hospital regardless of the loss of the one-mill levy which failed to gain the necessary 65 per cent vote at the November 8 election, although the vote showed a majority, running close to 54 per cent.

Although the county commissioners indicate a rather gloomy outlook regarding this early financing, until the hospital becomes self-supporting, they have announced their purpose of giving the county finances a thorough study to determine whether they can pay the institution's bills when it starts to function, out of the county's general fund.

STARING up at his cap, Walter Lyko of Dorchester, Mass., thinks of the close shave he had on a hunting trip in New Hampshire. Taken for a deer, he was shot at twice. The first bullet missed him, but the second ripped through the peak of his cap and left four holes in the attached hunting license. (International)

Mountain Lion Scare Hits Clark County

SPRINGFIELD, Nov. 15.—(AP)—Clark County hunters today—strictly as a side issue and probably only in self defense—were keeping a sharp lookout for an outsized cat.

Mrs. Mark Green, a farm wife, reported yesterday she saw a tawny animal that looked like a cat "only three times bigger than any cat I ever saw."

Frank Shelton, county dog warden, said farmers have complained for weeks about sheep killings. He added he didn't believe dogs were responsible.

Mrs. Green's animal sounds like a mountain lion to him, Shelton said.

Matures Reconciled After Near-Divorce

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 15.—(AP)—The Victor Matures are reconciled and are "ecstatically happy" again. So announced his studio yesterday, adding that Mrs. Mature, the former Dorothy Berry, has agreed to drop her divorce suit.

She filed the action last Nov. 4 and he vowed then he "would get her back if I could."

Salary Is Increased

HAMILTON, Nov. 15.—(AP)—City council, at its caucus last night, voted to increase City Manager Mark Thomas' annual salary $5,000 to $15,000.

Plans Approved; That's Tip Given By Rep. Brown

$250,000 Project Expected To Start Early Next Summer

The Washington C. H. Post Office building is to be enlarged and remodeled next year—unless some now unforeseen obstacles are encountered.

That is not official, but it is the next thing to it.

The Record-Herald has just learned from Rep. Clarence J. Brown that a $250,000 improvement program had been approved by the federal Public Building Commission. W. E. Reynolds heads the commission.

Rep. Brown, in his telephone conversation with the Record-Herald from Washington, D. C., emphasized that the approval was not yet official.

He said, however, that he had learned the project had been given the OK and that the public announcement would be made within the next few days.

More Details Wanted

Postmaster W. E. Passmore here, when told of the unexpected but hoped-for developments, said he had planned a trip to Washington, D. C., this week, and while there would try to get more of the details of the federal agency's plans for the project.

Postmaster Passmore said he was particularly interested in learning whether the enlargement plans call for added wings to the present building or a second story. The present building is only one story with a basement.

Rep. Brown said he was unable to give any details of the plans for the project. He said he understood no provision was made for acquisition of additional land, however.

Rep. Brown also said he had learned it was probable that the enlarged and remodeled building would house offices of some federal agencies here. Mentioned in this connection were the headquarters for the deputy internal revenue collector, Agricultural Conservation Administration (AAA) office and an adequate quarters for the federal Civil Service examinations. Some examinations for the district are assigned here.

The project here, Rep. Brown said he understood, is one of 80 in the entire country to get approval and the only one in this, the seventh, Congressional district. Approval, he added, had been given to only a few of the hundreds of applications for similar improvements and enlargements.

Money Is Authorized

Rep. Brown said he had learned that the preliminary plans for the project here have been completed and that the money is available for the specific appropriation by Congress under the provisions of the Public Building Act of 1949 for new post office building construction.

Work on the building should start next summer, Rep. Brown said he had learned—provided no unforeseen snags are encountered. While the approval—unofficial though it is as yet—came unexpectedly, the project is in line with a request made by the Washington C. H. Chamber of Commerce last year.

Last April 16, a complete file of information on the crowded conditions at the post office here was sent to Postmaster General Jesse M. Donaldson in Washington, D. C.

Home Gas Heating Ban Put on Again

COLUMBUS, Nov. 15 —(AP)—Home owners in Bryan, Defiance and Delta, Ohio expecting to convert their homes to gas heating this winter, will have to wait.

Officials of two gas companies serving these communities today told the State Utilities Commission they would be unable to take on new customers now because their gas supplies are inadequate.

The companies are the Toledo Edison Company, which serves 2,600 customers in Defiance and Delta, and the Ohio Gas Company, which has 8,000 customers in Bryan.

Last September, the PUCC ordered these companies to report November 15 whether their gas supplies were sufficient for new customers. At that time, other gas companies in Ohio were exempted from reporting.

Home Ec Class Visits Steen's Girls' Field Trip Part of Instruction

Of late, girls in fourth year home economics at Washington C. H. High School have been going to "class" outside of the school building.

Tuesday, for instance, they visited Steen Dry Goods store.

The visit was all part of the current class study of china, pottery and crystal ware in the home.

The class has used pamphlets, books and magazines in gathering information on the selection of these wares for the home.

Twenty-seven girls from the class were led through the store by George Steen and Alan Grillo. This was the second visit the girls have made to a local business establishment.

For a better understanding of the selection of plated and solid silver, the class recently visited the Gossard Jewelry Store.

These educational visits to community business places are an integral part of the class's semester work based on the subject: "Establishing a Home and Selecting Furnishings for a Home."

Earlier in the year, the girls made a school bus tour of the city as a climax to their study of historical periods of history as shown in architecture.

The class is under the direction of Mrs. Olive Woodyard.

May Reduce Charge

Even after a grand jury returns an indictment, the court may reduce the charge on recommendation of the prosecutor, likewise, the jury which hears the case may reduce the charge.

Three officers of Delta Tau Delta, the fraternity in which McKeown was an active and Heer a pledge, were removed from their posts yesterday by the University's Council on Student Affairs. They were Prof. Frank M. Mallett, faculty adviser; James E. Rhodes, the chapter's president, and George V. Fisher, the social chairman.

University officials said they admitted a violation had been committed Friday against the University rule prohibiting the serving of liquor in student housing accommodations. The Council's action bans them from holding any fraternity office in the future.

Earlier in the day, the University's Board of Trustees passed a rule prohibiting the keeping of "firearms of any description in any recognized University Housing Facility."

Miss Crafton also was held to the grand jury yesterday under $300 bond as a material witness. She is not an Ohio State student.

Police said she was held as a material witness because she witnessed the "probable cause" of Heer's sudden desire to get a gun shortly after he left her at the home of his uncle and aunt, with whom she was staying during her visit to Columbus.

Post Office Project

that was the basis of the granting of the request here was assembled by members of the Young Businessmen's Committee of the Chamber of Commerce John Breiner headed the committee and wrote the report.

Paul Dougherty was the C of C board member named to work with the YBM committee. He was elated over the unexpected turn of events. Breiner is in California and will not learn of the reward for his and the committee's efforts.

Building Inspected

Not long after the request and information was sent to the postmaster general, it was learned, representatives of the Post Office Department were here to make an inspection.

Fred Rost, who was then the general secretary of the C of C, followed the YBM report to Washington D. C. There he conferred with Rep. Brown and several other congressmen on the Post Office project.

Word seeped back after a short time that the inspectors were impressed by conditions here and the need for more space to handle the increasing amount of mail.

The impression at that time was that the enlargement program eventually would be approved, but there was no indication when the approval would come.

It is understood that present plans for the project call for more than doubling the floor space from its present approximately 4,500 square feet to about 10,000 square feet.

Postmaster Passmore said approximately $80,000 worth of business was handled by the post office here last year. He estimated that would be increased to more than $110,000 this year.

Mainly About People

Friends of Phil Davis will learn with regret of his serious illness at his home, 608 East Paint Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Davis have moved from 827 Broadway, to their farm on the Waterloo Road.

Mrs. Neil B. Jones and daughter, Dorothy Anne, moved Monday from 219 1-2 East Street to 332 1-2 East Street.

Mr. Harry L. Jacobs is seriously ill at his home, 114 East Temple Street, where he suffered a stroke Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Daniels, 723 Forest Street, are the parents of a seven and one half pound son, born at their home, Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Dale Trout and daughter, Karol Kay, have moved from 722 South North Street to 1126 East Temple Street.

Mrs. Julia Morarity was taken from her home, 336 East Street, to Doctors' Hospital, Columbus, Tuesday afternoon in the Gerstner ambulance.

Howard Barney was brought from St. Anthony Hospital, Columbus, to his home on the Greenfield Road, Tuesday morning in the Gerstner ambulance.

Mrs. Otho Fent of Jeffersonville, who has been ill for the past five weeks with virus pneumonia, was able to resume her duties on Monday at the Mill-edgeville Bank, in Jeffersonville.

Mrs. William Oyer, while walking along the roadside near the O. O. Bush farm on the Bush Road Monday, was knocked down by a dog and suffered cuts and bruises on her left knee. Mr. Bush brought her to the office of Dr. J. H. Persinger where she was cared for.

James Lucas, ten year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lucas, 924 Lakeview Avenue, was treated for a deep laceration on his right knee by Dr. Marvin H. Rossmann, Monday evening. The injury, which required several stitches to close, was sustained while he and other boys were playing football near his home. He was taken to the doctor's office in the Parrett ambulance.

on certain equipment. Its first advertisement for X-ray equipment was started early this month and bids are being received for these items on November 22.

The next lot of equipment to be advertised for bids probably will be started sometime this week. This lot is known as Group Two equipment, covering many items including furnishings for rooms, surgical equipment etc.

The board at its Monday night meeting made it clear that on much of this type of equipment it expects numerous local bidders who are being encouraged to place bids on any such parts of the equipment as they can furnish. These bids are to be received on December 6. They carry the provision that all items on which bids are placed must be ready for delivery at the hospital on February 15.

Those firms interested may secure specifications for bids at the hospital temporary office on South Main Street.

It was stated that the bids for general supplies, known as Group Three equipment, will be advertised last, but sometime in the near future.

During the board meeting the board authorized the installation of the hospital's telephone system. This system when installed will permit telephone communication between all points in the hospital and to any patient's room.

Recognition For Donors

Another matter of business before the board was a brief joint meeting with the committee which has charge of the metal plates and plaques with names of those who contributed in the campaign in which $60,000 was contributed toward hospital equipment in this county.

This committee is composed of Arthur H. Finley, chairman; Wal-

Grain Market

CHICAGO, Nov. 15 — (AP) — Soybean futures rallied today on overnight reports that the government had bought quantities of soybean oil. Gains reached more than a cent at times before prices reacted somewhat.

Corn was firm on buying influenced by reports that the government plans a big corn export program. Wheat was weak most of the session on lack of export developments, with losses reaching more than a cent occasionally. Deferred land contracts held steady to firm, but the November delivery dipped to $9.12 a hundred pounds at

Financial Market

NEW YORK, Nov. 15 — (AP) — A wobbly touch persisted in the stock market today following yesterday's decline, worst in a month or so.

Prices appeared on a fairly steady basis in early dealings but a tendency to decline soon appeared. It was no more than a tendency however, for numerous shares sold at slight increases. Many issues reassured between plus and minus ground.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15—(AP)—The Germans want "dismantling" ended. You'll be hearing more about it.

It's one of the things Secretary of State Acheson discussed last week in Paris with the foreign ministers of Britain and France.

He said yesterday, And, without being specific, he said some important decisions were reached at the Paris conference.

When the allies dismantle a German plant, it doesn't mean necessarily they tear down the building.

In most cases they leave the buildings standing but ship the machinery to one of the allies countries for use there.

This is in keeping with a plan worked out by the big allies after Germany fell when they divided it into four zones: American, British, French, Russian.

The dismantling was to be done in the four zones. No one here knows what the Russians have taken out of their zone, or how much it's worth.

But in the three western zones about 570 plants, worth around $250,000,000, according to state department specialists, have been dismantled. There are 200 or so on the list still to go.

The allies said they wanted Germany to have a level of living as good, but not better, than her neighbors. At the same time they wanted her to pay for some of the war damage she did.

They figured they could kill the two birds with one stone by taking from Germany plants which, they decided, were more than she needed to maintain that certain living level.

At first the allies put 2,000 plants on the dismantling list. Then they cut this down to 1,000.

But last year the U. S. set up the Marshall Plan to help Europe get over the war, and this included Germany.

So the question came up: why pour help into Germany and at the same time take away her plants.

Marshall Plan officials set up a special committee of American businessmen to study the dismantling program.

As a result of the committee's recommendations, the Americans, British and French agreed to knock off another 200 plants from the list (previously revised downward from 2,000) of 1,000 plants to be dismantled.

That left about 800 to go. Since 570 have now been dismantled, only around 200 or so are still on the list.

Meanwhile, the U. S., Britain and France set up a new German republic as one step toward German recovery. Now Germans are protesting against further dismantling.

There have been protests in this country, too. Just before Congress folded last month, 44 senators, Democrats and Republicans, appealed to the state department to call a halt.

Nursing Homes To Be Cleaner

State Meeting Is Now Under Way

A number of operators of licensed nursing homes in the county are attending the third annual meeting of the Ohio Association of License Nurses Tuesday and Wednesday in Columbus.

Regarding the meeting, David P. Wise, recording secretary of the association, said:

"What's wrong with Ohio's Nursing Homes?"

"Whatever there may be, the Ohio Association of Licensed Homes is going to make it right."

"At the third annual meeting, Tuesday and Wednesday, the Association will take steps to ask the legislature to 'clean house'—that is, enact laws to compel all nursing homes to be cleaner, better managed, to be better selected and to have better operators. The conference will bring together more than 300 persons interested in Ohio's Nursing Homes, including more than 150 members and guests. Sessions will be held in the Deshler-Wallick Hotel.

The Annual Banquet will be held Tuesday evening, Judge J. H. Lamneck, Director of Public Welfare for Ohio; M. W. McIntyre, Chief, Division of Aid for the Aged; and Judge Rodney M. Love, of Dayton, Montgomery County Probate Judge, will be the chief speakers.

Mrs. Frances A. Barclay of Berea, President of the Association will preside. Officers will be elected at the session, Wednesday morning. There will be various reports, including that from the recently organized American Association of Nursing Homes in Toledo, and from committees. The Convention is open to all nursing home operators.

Course in Insurance Completed by Willis

Richard R. Willis, Jr., today is back in the insurance business in Washington C. H. with the Willis Insurance Agency, North Fayette Street, after completing a five-week course of special training at the Travelers Insurance Co. school in Hartford, Conn.

The course he took at the Travelers Co. school covered broadly straight life, group and accident insurance.

After building the foundation for the business with the intensive study of the fundamentals at the school, the course is to continue for another six months in actual business with a special agent, and instructor from the district office coming here at least once a week.

A native of Washington C. H. and a graduate of Washington C. H. High school, he attended Denison University at Granville. He won letters in both football and basketball in high school and in football at Denison.

Mrs. Willis is the former Miss Gaynell Heath of Sedalia. She attended Ohio State University. They are now remodeling their future home on West Circle Avenue.

Willis is now associated with his father, Richard R. Willis, who has been in the insurance business here for about 20 years. All types of insurance are handled now by the general agency.

School Buses Now Undergoing Repairs

All school boards that have buses that failed to pass the annual state inspection during the early part of October have been reminded to make the necessary repairs.

Acting as coordinator for Fayette County, William J. Hilty, superintendent of the county schools, notified the district boards by letter.

The state regulation says that all buses marked unsatisfactory (but serviceable) must be repaired and reported back to the coordinator within 30 days from the time of the inspection.

Since most of the unsatisfactory ratings were due to lack of proper warning lights provided for under a new regulation, the delay in repairs is due to a delay in the arrival of shipments of lights that have been ordered, Supt. Hilty said.

Buses that failed to pass for other reasons are now being serviced for the corrections, Hilty reported.

New Wood-Working Plant Opened Here

William W. Taylor of Washington C. H., has opened a new wood-working plant here.

Taylor, for eight years with the Morton Show Cases, Inc., and in the army five years was last employed at the Clinton County Air Base, when it folded up he decided to start a plant of his own.

He leased a small 20 by 30 garage building from Mrs. P. J. Burke. It is located on the north side of West Temple Street west of the Paint Creek Bridge.

Taylor's first job is a contract to make the furnishings for the projected Hall Drug Store, 115 West Court Street, which is to be opened January 1.

As his business grows, Taylor expects to increase the capacity of his plant by adding workmen and equipment, and expanding facilities generally. Taylor will specialize in commercial work.

Retired Workers Or Their Families Told What To Do

Do you know what insurance protection is provided by your Government under the provisions of the Social Security Act?

Under the old-age and survivors provisions of the Social Security Act, monthly insurance payments are paid to insured workers over 65 when they retire from work. Monthly insurance payments are also made to widows and children of insured workers in those cases where the worker dies and children under 18 survive.

Social Security payments may be lost if an application is not filed at the proper time. A retired worker, over 65, should file his application within four months after his employment has terminated so that he may draw benefits for the first month of his retirement. For example, John Q. Worker, over 65, who retires from employment during the month of July 1949, must file an application before the end of November 1949, in order that insurance payments can be made to him for the month of August 1949 and succeeding months. If he delays filing his application until after November 1949, insurance payments would begin only with the third month prior to the month the application is filed. Thus, if John Q. Worker delayed filing his application until December 1949, insurance payments would be payable beginning with the month of September 1949, and he would have lost benefits for the month of August, 1949.

The same rule applies in those cases where a worker dies and leaves survivors who are eligible for monthly insurance payments.

It is important, therefore, that both the worker himself and HIS FAMILY have knowledge of the insurance protection provided and the requirements that must be met in order that no insurance payments are lost.

REMEMBER! AN APPLICATION FOR INSURANCE PAYMENTS MUST BE FILED AT A SOCIAL SECURITY OFFICE BE-

The Record-Herald Tuesday, Nov. 15, 1949 3
Washington C. H., Ohio

FORE PAYMENTS CAN BEGIN

It is the suggestion of the Social Security Administration that employees contact the nearest Social Security office when they attain age 65, whether or not they continue working, in order that they may obtain full information of their rights under the Social Security Act. It is also suggested that in cases where a worker dies, regardless of his age, a member of his family should contact the nearest Social Security office immediately to inquire whether social security insurance payments can be made. If these instructions are followed, the WORKER and HIS FAMILY can be sure that they receive the maximum protection provided by the Social Security Act and no insurance payments will be lost.

Mr. Joseph A. Etienne, a representative of the Social Security Administration is at the Ohio Employment Service, 211 East Market Street, Washington Court House, Ohio every second and fourth Wednesday of the month from 12 noon until 2:00 P. M.

Mr. Etienne will be glad to assist anyone who wishes to file for Social Security benefits and to talk with anyone who may have questions pertaining to the Social Security program.

Colored Oleo Question In Ohio Settled

Although the vote in Fayette County on the oleomargarine question showed a majority of near 300 against the proposal of permitting the sale of colored oleo, the vote here was closer than was anticipated for a strong rural community.

Probably no issue in the recent election aroused more interest in Ohio than did this. The state result was a heavy majority in favor of selling colored oleo.

If the result of the action of Ohio voters at this fall election is any indication of the temper of people throughout the nation, members of the United States Senate are in for a difficult time with their constituents in 1950 if they do not promptly face the question of repealing discriminatory federal taxes against colored oleomargarine.

The sale of colored oleo in Ohio has been prohibited for 62 years; in 1949, as in several other past years, efforts to get the legislature to change the law proved a dismal failure. Then those who sought this change tried a different method. They carried the question direct to the people. They initiated a law and at the election the proposal received a resounding majority.

Ohio was one of seventeen states prohibiting the sale of colored oleo, but it is the first state in which the question has been presented to the people in a referendum. A surprising point in the outcome was that the rural areas did not solidly oppose colored oleo, as had been expected, but were divided. Apparently rural people, as well as city dwellers, figure they have a right to buy oleo if they wish, and don't need the word of the legislature to tell them what to have for dinner.

Colored oleo, where available, will still cost about ten cents a pound more than white oleo, unless the U. S. Senate agrees with the House that the special federal taxes against the colored product should be repealed. In the Eightieth Congress the House voted to repeal them, but the Senate shelved the proposal. Now in the present Congress the House again has voted to repeal, but so far the Senate has kept the matter tucked away.

Titled Lady Knows Her Wolves

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK.—(AP)—Democratic America has a passion for conferring titles on pretty girls.

One who has practically been nominated "Miss Everything" is Margaret Phelan, an ex-choir singer and star songbird of the nation's supper club circuit.

So far Miss Phelan, a Texas Irish lass with dark red hair and eyes like fireflies, has been chosen:

"The girl with the most perfect shoulders in the world"—by the artists league of America.

"Miss Gung Ho"—by the Marine Corps' First Division.

"One Of The Ten Best Tailored Women in America"—by the Custom Tailors Guild.

Runnerup in the "Ten Best Dressed Women in America"—by the Fashion Academy.

"Miss Sharp Look of 1949"—by the Associated Cutlery Industries.

"One Of The Ten Best Non-professional Dancers in America"—by the Dance Educators of America.

"Miss Ambassador of National Flower Week"—by the American Society of Florists.

"The Girl We'd Most Like To Regiment"—by an army regiment.

These honors rest lightly on

Miss Phelan's beautiful shoulders, which unfortunately were covered by a throat-high green dress the afternoon I talked to her in the Peacock Alley at the Waldorf. (Incidentally, you see more quail in that alley than peacocks.)

"I thought that 'Miss Gung Ho' business topped them all," said Maggie. "I understand it's sort of a Marine invasion cry."

The title she herself feels she has earned, however, is "Miss Wolf Expert." Her throaty soprano and intimate songs make many lonely night club patron want to howl his woes into her ears at a post-supper table for two.

Margaret has found the average American wolf about as subtle in his approach as a circus parade—or a horse on tiptoe.

"Men are the same everywhere—in or out of a night club," she said. There are no unusual approaches.

"Of course, some men say they want to put you in a moving picture—or something. But that's not unusual."

As a matter of policy, Miss Phelan turns down all invitations. She said the nicest man she ever met was a fellow who heard her sing in Chicago and sent a bottle of champagne to her room.

"And only a single glass came with the champagne," she laughed.

She thinks it an odd coincidence that the name Phelan itself originally meant wolf.

"In old Ireland the wolf was highly regarded and respected, too," she said, "something like the cow is today in India."

Margaret is the daughter of Art Phelan, a former Big League ball player. She studied to be an opera singer. In 1941 she married a young Naval flyer. Three months later he was killed on a battle mission in the Pacific.

The young widow came to Manhattan to try to resume the career she had given up at her marriage.

"I worked as a secretary and got a job in a church choir," she said.

Margaret didn't get a chance at opera but an agent "did get her a week's booking at a Buffalo all night club."

"I had only been in a night club twice in my life before," she said. "I knew nothing about singing in one. That was the most miserable week I ever spent in show business."

In the years since then Maggie has worked herself into the $1,000-a-week-and-up bracket. But there is one situation in night clubs she still can't adjust to.

"That's when a customer at a ringside table begins eating lobster just as you start singing a low, soft song," she smiled. It goes cra-a-a-ack, cra-a-a-ack, cra-a-a-a-ack—"

UN Record Shows Purpose Served

By George E. Sokolsky

In one of the best defenses ever made of the United Nations, Warren Austin, United States ambassador to that body, said:

"On the side of collective security we observe that every international disturbance which threatened the peace of the world during the short life of the United Nations was brought to the United Nations. In no case has there been failure and in no case did the United Nations have peace forces to employ. In every case Pacific methods prevailed to prevent or confine the fighting and to lead toward settlement. I need only to mention Berlin, Palestine, Indonesia, Kashmir, Greece, and Korea to remind you that, to some degree, the United Nations has succeeded in every case. The direction is the main point, but in fact in some of these cases the United Nations has advanced a great distance toward the ultimate settlement."

"In other words, there is the proof that the United Nations is serving the cause of peace, and there is ground for faith in future progress on the security front."

From this standpoint, the United Nations has justified its existence, for the present task of all diplomacy must be to confine conflicts to immediate localities, lest some triviality produce a general war. As matters stand today, no matter what antagonisms develop, as long as Soviet Russia and the United States are not involved in shooting and in bomb throwing, there can be no general war. No other countries can produce a general war. In a word, while war as an instrument of national policy, has not been outlawed, the general war, which involves the entire human race, can be and has been averted.

The fact that Russia continues to send her minister of foreign affairs, Andrei Vishinsky, to United Nations meetings, provides at any rate, a spark of hope, that to disturb the world, is not ready for nor willing to risk a general war. The atomic bomb notwithstanding, there can be no victor in such a war. It can only result in an annihilation of the institutions of civilization.

The big issues remain the Balkans and China, as they have been the principal issues during the whole of this century. World War I started in the Balkans as World War II started in Manchuria. The error in World War II was to fail to recognize that the downfall of Japan would be accompanied by the downfall of China. I wrote a book, "The Tinderbox of Asia," in 1932 to prove that, and while the idea then was anathema to most Americans and Chinese, events have proved it to be correct.

There was no period, between 1939 and 1942 that peace between the United States and Japan was not possible on America's terms. All the evidence at the Tokyo trials proves that to be so, as does collateral data. It is clear that the chief impediment to peace was neither China nor Japan, but President Roosevelt, Secretary of State Hull, and Secretary of War Stimson who wanted to knock Japan out and were sure that they could do it.

Their certainty has been justifified by the course of events, but at what a price! The defeat of Japan was, for the United States, a most costly pyrrhic victory, for we opened the door to the conquest of China by Soviet Russia and the need and expense for the defense of the remainder of Asia. Had this subject been discussable in the open as the Israel-Arab problem has been, we might have had Japan on our side as an ally in World War II as she had been in World War I.

Of course such speculation is futile now and the failure of the League of Nations in the Manchurian and Ethiopian issues gave little encouragement for faith in world organizations. Nevertheless, the task of our century is to confine conflicts, to encourage open diplomacy, to fight international secrecy. If the discussions at the United Nations sometimes do not rise above the level of a high school debate, it is nonetheless a place to let off live steam, and that has its value.

Diet and Health Rest Is Important In Some Ailments

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

MOST of us feel abused when ordered to bed for a few days by the doctor, and yet severe illness compels thousands of people of all ages to spend weeks or even months in bed.

Bed rest is an important part of the treatment of many disorders and often is an essential if health is to be regained.

Lessens Body Effort

Rest in bed lessens the body effort. When a person is up and about, he breathes more rapidly and the lungs work harder. The heart also beats faster and the muscles are moving and working. All of this activity requires fuel which is used up and must be replaced. When a person is at rest in bed, the drain on the fuel supply is lessened; then the body may devote itself to a greater extent in combating infections or in healing processes which must occur before the disease is overcome.

While the sulfonamide drugs and penicillin may help overcome infection, they do not help in the repair processes. These must be carried out by the body itself.

A person who is up and about may become overtired. He is subjected to changes in temperature, to worry, and may even be exposed to new infections. When he is at rest in bed, all of these things are avoided.

If a person is told to remain in bed, he should follow a schedule that will help give him the complete rest necessary. As a rule, eight to ten hours of sleep at night and two hours of sleep during the day are suggested. If the person is especially fatigued, even more sleep may be required.

Avoid Discontent

Particularly in the case of children, it may be necessary to supply activities during the waking periods in order to avoid restlessness and discontent.

Patients who are confined to bed for only a few days may be kept occupied by the radio, reading, sewing, etc. Those who are required to stay in bed for longer periods of time may train themselves by reading educational books or taking up a useful hobby. Reading, listening to music, writing, sewing, knitting, and other activities which do not require excessive physical efforts are all useful for the patient confined to bed.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

M. L. H.: Is it common for a child to have Bright's disease?

Answer: Bright's disease refers to a chronic kidney disease. Children may have chronic kidney disorders, particularly the type known as nephrosis.

The child should be thoroughly studied to determine just what condition is present; then proper treatment can be carried out.

ORDINANCE NO. 316

To provide for the issuance of note by the City of Washington in the amount of $4000.00 in anticipation of the levy of special assessments and in anticipation of the issuance of bonds, in anticipation of the collection of special assessments for the improvement of certain streets therein named, by constructing therein a sanitary sewer and declaring the necessity of the issuance of bonds for such purpose.

Whereas, the Council of the City of Washington has heretofore by proper legislation, declared the necessity of improving certain streets hereinafter named, by constructing sanitary sewer, and

Whereas, the subject matter herein provided for constitutes an emergency measure by providing for the immediate preservation of the public property, health, and safety, and

Whereas, on the 22nd day of June, 1949, ordinance number 282 was passed, authorizing the issuance of note in the amount of $16,000.00 to provide funds in anticipation of the levy of special assessments and in anticipation of the issuance of bonds for the improvement of East Elm Street from Center Street to Willard Street; Willard Street from East Elm Street to the existing main sewer; Yeoman Street from East Elm Street to the existing main sewer and John Street from East Elm Street to manhole No. 4 on Grove Avenue, by constructing sanitary sewers therein.

SECTION 2. That for the purpose of raising money in anticipation of the levy of special assessments, and in anticipation of the issuance of bonds, in anticipation of the collection of special assessments for the construction of sanitary sewers in East Elm Street from Center Street to Willard Street; Willard Street from East Elm Street to the existing main sewer; Yeoman Street from East Elm Street to the existing main sewer and John Street from East Elm Street to manhole No. 4 on Grove Avenue, in accordance with legislation heretofore passed by the City Council with respect thereto, to pay the property owners share of the cost and expense of said improvement, a note of said City shall be issued in the amount of $4,000.00 which shall be placed to the credit of the following fund: "Sanitary Sewers, East Elm Street from Center Street to Willard Street; Willard Street from East Elm Street to the existing main sewer; Yeoman Street from East Elm Street to the existing main sewer and John Street from East Elm Street to manhole No. 4 on Grove Avenue."

SECTION 3. Said note shall be signed by the City Manager and the City Auditor, bearing date of December 1, 1949, and be due and payable June 30, 1950; said note shall be numbered one and shall be of the denomination of $4,000.00, shall bear interest at the rate of 2 percent per annum; payable at maturity of note, to wit: June 30, 1950; the principal and interest shall be payable at the office of the Treasurer of the City of Washington, Ohio, at The First National Bank, Washington C. H., Ohio.

SECTION 4. After said improvement is completed and the cost thereof ascertained, Council shall be Ordinance, assess upon the benefited property in the manner provided in the legislation referring to said improvement and heretofore adopted by this Council the entire cost and expense thereof, except the portion to be paid by the City in accordance with the provisions of the General Code of Ohio, and shall authorize the issuance of bonds in anticipation of the collection of said assessments in an amount substantially equal thereto under the provisions of Section 2293-24 of the General Code of Ohio. The proceeds from the sale of such bonds and any unexpended balances in the improvement fund remaining after the completion of said improvement shall be used for the payment of the note authorized by this Ordinance and for no other purpose.

SECTION 5. All assessments collected for the improvement and unexpended balance remaining in the fund after the cost and expense of the improvement has been made shall be applied to the payment of the note and the interest thereon until both are fully provided for. In the event that said assessments are not levied and said bonds are not issued then there shall be levied upon the taxable property in the City of Washington a general ad valorem tax sufficient to pay said note and the interest thereon, and a certified copy of this Ordinance shall be certified to the County Auditor as required by the uniform bond act.

SECTION 6. That the faith and credit of the City of Washington are hereby pledged for the payment of both principal and interest of the note hereinafter assumed at maturity and in accordance with the laws and constitution of the State of Ohio.

SECTION 7. That the City Manager and City Auditor are hereby directed to have said note properly prepared and executed, to sell the same and to deposit the proceeds in the City Treasury to the credit of the fund hereinafter named for the purpose of paying the portion of the cost of said improvement not heretofore provided to be paid by said City and for which purpose said money is hereby appropriated.

SECTION 8. That for the reasons stated in the preamble hereto, which is hereby made a part hereof, this ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure and shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

Wilma Jean Arnott Weds Paul Vanderford

Miss Wilma Jean Arnott daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Arnott of the Chillicothe Road was united in marriage Sunday, November 13 to Mr. Paul E. Vanderford of Cincinnati. The single ring ceremony was read by Rev. C. B. Tigner in the First Christian Church parsonage as the hands of the clock approached two-thirty in the afternoon in the presence of a small group of guests which was confined to relatives and close friends of the couple. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Moats of Troy, sister and brother-in-law of the bride were the attendants. The bride chose for the occasion a wine gabardine dressmaker suit with which she combined black accessories and her corsage was of gardenias. A reception including the wedding guests was held at the home of the bride's parents immediately following the ceremony and the bride's table was centered with the wedding cake.

Assisting Mrs. Arnott at the reception were: Mrs. Wilma Jean Ankrom, Mrs. Pearl Dowler and Miss Barbara Brodt.

Upon their return from a short honeymoon the couple will be at home at 320 Westwood Avenue, Dayton.

Guests at the wedding and reception were: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sutton, Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Cole of Cincinnati, Miss Barbara Brodt, Miss Christine Blanton of West Union, Miss Ann Locker of Newark, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Moats and family of Troy, Mr. and Mrs. David Ankrom, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Estep, Mrs. Pearl Dowler, and Mrs. Rebecca Tracey of this city.

Gradale Sorority Holds Meeting

The members of Gradale Sorority met in regular session Monday evening in the Record-Herald club rooms. The meeting was called to order by the primus, Mrs. Donald Moore, and the group repeated the Gradale invocation.

The usual reports were read and approved and a special report on the fall convention held in Columbus, sponsored by the YWCA, was given by Mrs. Edward Hoskins. She gave a detailed summary of the meeting on the subject "International Relations."

The meeting was turned over to the committee in charge, Mrs. George Robinson, Jr. Mrs. Charles Simpson and Mrs. Charles James who discussed four different religions. Mrs. Robinson on Lutheran faith, Mrs. James, Quaker Mrs. Simpson on Episcopalian and Mrs. McCoy Jewish. A lengthy discussion was held on each religion.

Lions Play Last Game Friday

The mothers and fathers who suffer through the football season wondering whether their boys will come home limping and bruised, are coming in for their tributes here Friday night when the Lions of WHS play their final game of the year against the boys from Dayton Stivers High School.

That night has been officially designated as "Parents' Night."

The Moms and Dads are to come onto the field at Gardner Park before the game with their sons. The boys are to be escorted to a special row of seats that is to be arranged in front of the grandstand near the players' bench.

Each is to be introduced to the crowd over the loud speaker system.

At the halftime intermission, the crack WHS marching band is to go through some special formations as a tribute to the guests of honor.

For eight sets of parents, this will be the last night they will have to sit and wring their hands and watch and hope for the best. It will bring to an end the watch over training schedules and special menus for the athletes. And no more will they have to go through the mental anguish of seeing their boys depressed by defeat or a misplay on the field; no more will they have to console their offspring and try to raise sagging spirits.

After the trouncing the Lions took at Circleville last Friday night, they started right out again Monday preparing for the invasion of the Tigers from Dayton. Incidentally—if their parents need any help in consoling them—the WHS fans have had nothing but praise for the scrap the Lions put up at Circleville and nothing but praise for the way they took defeat with their heads held high.

How Friday night's game comes out on the score sheet may not make much difference to the parents so long as it winds up their worries for another nine months but Stivers beat Dunbar (another Dayton school) last Saturday night 20 to 14.

The record of the Stivers' Tigers is not too impressive—something like three wins and six defeats—and changes for a WHS victory are not too dark. At least that's the way many of those who follow high school football look at it.

Two teams — the Lions and the Elks — finished in a tie for high score honors in Monday night's Fraternal League bowling at Bowl-land. The odds for such a coincidence are even longer than for making a 500 to 1 shot in the numbers.

The Elks made their 2624 good for a clean sweep of their match with the Record-Herald, but the best the Lions could do with their 2624 was take two out of three from the Country Clubbers. M. Lynch was high for the Elks with 575 and McLean, with 566, was high for the Lions.

The Sabina Moose took the first two games from the Universals, but were nosed out by 15 pins in the last one.

The Rotarians dropped their opener to the Mt. Sterling Boosters, but came back to win the other two games despite the 555 racked up by Pollock.

Rattles Pack 'Em In Where Football Fails

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 15.—(AP)—How can a wrestling show draw 8,300 people in the same town where 300-400 was a normal crowd at a class AAA league baseball game?

For the answer to that one, consult Willie Gilzenberg, one-time boxing manager, boxing promoter and now a pillar of the wrestling business.

Kid Football Finished for Second Year

The Sunnyside fifth and sixth graders are the undefeated, untied champs of the city's elementary schools.

Ask any kid from the other schools, however, and they'll tell you about the games they played just as if there were no team better than theirs.

Plenty of enthusiasm marked the second season's play in the league, director Fred Pierson said.

As a matter of fact, all of the schools won at least one of their games and none of them were held scoreless in defeat.

Quite a few close ones are also on the books for the season.

A look at the points for and against columns will also show that every school was in every ball game, win, lose or draw.

In last week's games, Sunnyside ran up its fourth win by downing Eastside, 39 to 6. John Ackley with four TD's and Joseph Detty with two provided most of the champs scoring. For Eastside the lone scorer was Bobby Wilson with one TD.

Cherry Hill assured itself the number two berth in the league when it outdid Central, 33 to 20. Earl Monroe and Larry Coil tallied twice each for the victors.

The rest of their TD scoring was made by Jerry Mitchell with one TD and Bobby Lee Graves' with one safety. Central's scoring was handled by John Varney, John Summers and Leo Emrick with one TD apiece.

The final standings in the league are as follows:

Team	W	L	Pts.	Pts. For	Pts. Against
Sunnyside	4	0	135	38
Cherry Hill	3	1	69	66
Rose Ave.	1	3	56	73

WHS Cage Schedule Is Tougher This Year

In a few more weeks, Washington C. H. High School sports fans will turn their attention indoors.

Already the pound of basketballs is resounding on the WHS gym floor.

Official practice doesn't open until next Monday, however, Coach Steve Lewis announced.

Choo Choo Justice Steelers Choice

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 15.—(AP)—Charley (Choo Choo) Justice, great running back from North Carolina University, was announced today as the No. 1 draft choice of the Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League.

Charley says he won't play. Not particularly that he won't play with the Steelers, because, so far as is known, he didn't know he had been drafted by the Steelers when he made his announcement.

He just doesn't mean to play professional ball, that's all.

A Man and His First Cadillac!

Seldom will you find a man in a happier state of mind than when he slides behind the wheel of his first Cadillac—and makes for the open highway.

There's the feeling of pride that is inescapable when a man comes into possession of something which is so universally admired...

... the feeling of confidence that comes from Cadillac's great reputation for quality, soundness and long life...

... the feeling of elation that comes from the car's amazing responsiveness to throttle and brakes...

... the feeling of gratitude that comes from being able to surround himself, and all who ride with him, with every safeguard an automobile can provide.

And, there is the soft, satisfying rush of the miles—the easy, restful ride—the positive, effortless handling—the sumptuous and comfortable surroundings.

Yes, it's a great thrill for a man when he goes for his first ride at the wheel of his first Cadillac.

But it's only the beginning! Day after day, year after year, he will have that same wonderful feeling as he rolls his Cadillac out into the street or highway. For the joy of Cadillac ownership is deep and abiding.

Wouldn't you like to learn what it's like to sit at the wheel of a car that can mean so much to you? If so, come in today—for a ride that's a revelation.

I Hear Adventure Calling

By EMILIE LORING

CHAPTER TWENTY-EIGHT
MRS. SARGENT in a purple crepe housecoat was reclining on a chaise longue. She looked up from a book and turned down the radio as Fran entered.
"It's you, dear. Henry told me to expect you. Frightful storm, wasn't it? Thunderstorms upset me." Her colorless face and troubled eyes confirmed the words. "He said the Digbys had been called away, that you must not stay there without them. He's right. He's always right; once, just once I wish he could be proved wrong."
"Where is Gene?"
"Come to spend the night with Kitty Saunders. Cards, I suspect. Oh, dear, that girl is a bad influence. How was the theater?"
Over the air came the music of a band playing, "Come to the Mardi Gras." The leader was giving out with the trumpet. The gay accompaniment lifted and danced through Fran's thoughts as she told of the success of the comedy; of the devastation the heat had wrought on make-ups; of tea at Shore Acres. She concluded:
"I don't wonder the storm upset you. Lightning laid low that historic oak on the highway."
"What a pity. It is centuries old. How was Natalie?"
"Looking wonderful and apparently on top of the world."
"Poor child, she had a mean break. I wish Matilde would give Nat's ex-husband his walking ticket—perhaps he will give her up. It seems to me the older children grow the more worry they are. Nat may have her troubles, but she doesn't have to make a 1939 allowance cover this year's increased outgo. Henry doesn't or won't realize how much more living costs." She opened her book, turned up the radio.
"Sorry, I shouldn't depress you with my problems. Nice to have you back, dear. Good night."
Before Fran closed her door she heard Mrs. Sargent say softly: "Come out. She's gone."
Fran opened the window of her room and looked out to sea. Waves were rolling toward shore, each crest silver-plated with moonlight. Far out an occasional flash ripped open the sky. Who had been hiding in Mrs. Sargent's room and why? Did Myles get away without trouble? After what had happened at the Gallery anything was possible. She leaned out. No one in sight.
"Ka-chew!" The shattering sneeze rose from the shrubs that bordered the turn-around. She listened. "Kach—" A second sneeze broke in the middle. Her heart zoomed to her throat. Was the stranger around tied up with the theft at the Gallery? Had the thief followed the roadster from there?
At that very moment in the garage at Shore Acres, Myles Jaffray opened the trunk of his car and removed the sheets of blotting paper and the wood he had put there when he had stopped at the Digby entrance. He stared unbelievably. Drew an electric torch from his pocket and flashed it round the interior. Gone!
On the porch of the Gallery Fran gazed at the limitless horizon of sky and sea. It was incredible that this sunny, brilliant morning was in the same world that had staged yesterday's torrid heat, furious wind, rain, lightning and thunder of last night's storm.
She wondered would Henry Sargent be successful in keeping the burglary a secret? If his wife had given no sign last evening. She had been pale, her eyes troubled when she referred to the increased cost of living. The domestic wheels at Rocky Point ran with soundless perfection. Was the upkeep worrying her? She had settled her daughter's debts once. Had she taken the money from her household expense budget, was she afraid that her husband would find out? Gene had said:
"Dad is generous but he would not advance our allowance or increase them a penny were the alternative jail for Mother or me."
That was a exaggeration, of course, but after the ruthless examination he had put her through last night, she could believe it.
To whom had Mrs. Sargent softly called, "Come out. She's gone"? Was it tied up in any way with the person in the border of shrubs who had sneezed? What would Myles say when she told him—A door opened behind her.
"It's my guess you were up with the birds, Miss Phillips."
Howlett's nasal voice brought her face to face with the present, plus his abnormally tall, abnormally lank person, and the blinding brilliance of his plaid shirt. A fringe of sandy hair surrounded a shining oasis on top of his dome-shaped head. His large mouth spread to his enormous ears when he opened it to poke with a straw at the interstices of his horse-like teeth. She had been too absorbed in Henry Sargent's reactions last night to pay much attention to the deputy sheriff.
"I didn't wait for breakfast, Mr. Howlett, I was so anxious to know if you discovered a clue to the theft of the enamel and spoons. Was anything else missing? Did Mr. Sargent say he was looking for a picture, for instance? Where is he?"
"Went home to breakfast. Took Si along to the Doc's, got kinder worried about his head. He was a pretty sick fella this mornin'. Who ever hit him'll have something to pay—jail, most probable. You know your boss don't want a hint of what happened to get out. It's my guess he's right. Said I wasn't to tell nobody nothing till he come back."
"How soon will that be, Sheriff?" Myles Jaffray inquired from the drive at the foot of the porch steps.
Fran hadn't realized she was tense till she relaxed with a sudden.

Ohio's Governor Is for Pheasants

COLUMBUS, Nov. 15.—(AP)—A curly haired little boy walked home from seventh grade one day 42 years ago.
Some yards down the road, a robin sat. The boy picked up a potato and threw it. It struck and killed the robin.
Now, this little boy was filled with remorse as he watched the robin kick his life away. He was horror-stricken.
That is why, Gov. Frank J. Lausche—who was that little boy—answered reporters asking if he planned to go pheasant hunting with these words today:
"I sincerely hope that the marksmanship of pheasant hunters in Ohio will be inaccurate." The Hawaiian Islands have less area than New York City, which is about 365 square miles.

$33,125 Damage Suit Decided

Verdict Is Returned For Defendant

A verdict for the defendant was returned by a Madison County jury in the case of Charles S. Marcy, Jr., Bristol, Tenn., formerly of Mt. Sterling, against Webster Junk, of Mt. Sterling, who sought $33,125 damages for injuries sustained while a passenger in Junk's car.

The accident in the case occurred on the CCC Highway, five miles northeast of Washington C. H., in January, 1946, and the jury visited the scene of the accident before hearing the evidence at London.

In his petition Marcy stated that he resided in Mt. Sterling at the time of the accident, and that he was riding with Webster Junk when the Junk car figured in a head-on collision with a car owned by Robert Dixon, of Washington C. H., on the CCC Highway.

A feature of the trial was testimony given on a wire recording machine, which was introduced and accepted. It was the deposition of Dr. Harland Wilson, Columbus physician, taken on the wire recorder and brought before the jury by Mrs. Sue Boland, Madison County's official court stenographer.

So far as known it was the first time in history that such evidence has been admitted in court.

C of C To Welcome New Residents Here

Members of the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce want to make the lot of the newcomer to Washington C. H. a little better.

In fact, they are so interested that they have formed a new-comer's committee of seven members. It will be the committee's job to decide how to get newcomers acquainted with city officials, businessmen and with other newcomers.

Other cities which have decided to extend the welcome hand to new residents have been gratified with the results of similar programs, the board was told. Picked to the committee were the following persons: Paul Van Voorhis, Forest Tipton, Mrs. Dorothy Miller, Mac Dews, Mrs. Nell Suntheimer, Ben Norris and Mrs. Roy Pymale.

The C of C hopes that a meeting of newcomers, city officials and businessmen can be held sometime in the near future, perhaps after the first of the year.

Newcomers would have an opportunity to get acquainted and get the feeling of being a part of this city.

Greenfield Man Dies In Hospital

Clarence Edwin Hise, 67, passed away Monday at 6 P. M. in Greenfield Hospital. He died after a lingering illness.

Born in New Holland, Mr. Hise moved to Greenfield in 1936, where he was a member of the Presbyterian Church.

Surviving Mr. Hise are his wife Della, at home and son Harold, Anderson Rd. Washington C. H.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 2 P. M. in the Struve Funeral Home, Greenfield, with Dr. William B. Kilpatrick in charge. Burial will be in the Washington C. H. Cemetery.

Friends will be received at the late resident, Route 70, South, after 7 P. M. Tuesday.

Man Collapses In FB Elevator

Alfred Wallace, Bogus Road, became ill after entering the Farm Bureau Elevator here Monday afternoon.

Around 3 P. M. Wallace came into the building and collapsed. He was taken to the office of Dr. Clarence G. Hayes by the Kirkpatrick & Sons Ambulance service.

After oxygen was administered to Wallace, he was taken to his home.

His condition today is reported to be better.

Man Is Badly Injured Here

Driver Cited After Accident

J. M. Burchfield, of Portsmouth, was injured seriously at the intersection of West Temple and Hinde Street Monday afternoon, when he was struck by an automobile driven by Harry Kuhn, city.

Burchfield sustained a compound fracture of his left leg and other injuries. He was picked up by the Gerstner Ambulance, cared for by Dr. J. H. Persinger, and then taken to Mercy Hospital, Portsmouth. His condition was regarded as serious.

Police investigated the accident and said Burchfield was riding west on Temple Street on a scooter bike and that Kuhn was driving north on Hinde Street and failed to observe the stop sign, with the result that he struck Burchfield, knocking him some distance, and inflicting injuries above mentioned.

A charge of running a stop light was placed against Kuhn, and he was cited to appear in police court Tuesday.

Building Planned Near Country Club

A combined one-story building and garage opposite the entrance to the Washington Country Club is being planned by O. M. Riegal of 514 Mulberry St.

Riegal said he plans to open the garage in the new structure for welding, machine shop, and auto repair work. In addition, he will carry the Johnson line of machine supplies, in the other section of the building, which will include a showroom.

Still completing estimates on the building, Riegal said that construction on it should begin in a week or so and be completed before the first of the year.

He said that concrete block will be the material used for the building which will be located near the intersection of Elm St. and the Greenfield Road.

Barton Montgomery Places In Judging

Barton Montgomery, a senior at Ohio State and the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Montgomery of near Washington C. H., came in for some honors at the Eastern States Livestock Exposition in Baltimore over the weekend.

W. W. Montgomery, county agent, said he had received word from his son that the Ohio State judging team, of which Barton is a member, placed first in the competition.

Barton placed sixth in the individual scoring while in competition with 49 other contestants on ten college teams.

The judging was of beef, hogs, horses and sheep. The OSU team will journey to Chicago November 26 to compete in the International Livestock Exposition.

Many Arrests Are Reported

Two Drivers Picked Up at 80 Miles

The two state highway patrolmen stationed in Washington C. H., made several arrests during the past two days, chiefly for speeding, and clocked two men at 80 miles an hour and another at 75.

Frank Garlove, Louisville, Ky., drew $15 and costs for driving 80 miles per hour on the CCC Highway.

James Wesley Jelf, musician, Indianapolis, picked up without a driver's license, said he had lost his license. A check showed such was the case, and he was released.

Wm. H. Zimmer, Cincinnati, was fined $15 and costs by Mayor Harry Junk, of Mt. Sterling, on a reckless operation charge after having been clocked at 75 miles per hour on the CCC Highway.

Merle Jones, "Chillicothe," was listed on a reckless operation charge after he had failed to make a turn on U. S. 62, two miles south of Staunton, and wrecked his car as result of excessive speed. He was to appear in court here Tuesday.

Bernard Kramer, Jr., Cincinnati, for making 75 miles per hour on 62 north, was fined $15 and costs by Police Court Justice R. H. Sites.

John L. Edelen, Cincinnati, picked up on U. S. 22 for reckless operation is to appear in court here Nov. 21. The patrolman said Edelen was driving 80 miles an hour.

Police cited Blair L. Redell, Erie, Ill., for running a red light.

Funeral Rites Held For Mrs. Ward Sharp

Funeral services for Mrs. Resie Mae Sharp, 60, widow of Ward Sharp, were held Tuesday at 2 P. M. at the Powers Funeral Home in Jamestown. Burial was made in the Milledgeville Cemetery.

Mrs. Sharp was a native of Fayette County, the daughter of John and Jane Allen Wilt. She moved to Jamestown in 1923, and had operated a beauty parlor there since 1933. Her husband died in 1934.

Survivors include a son, John, of Xenia; three daughters, Mrs. Juanita Gordon, of Jamestown; Mrs. Carrie Huston, of Hollywood, Fla. and Mrs. Loueva McCalmont, Xenia; two brothers, W. M. and Ward Wilt, both of Washington C. H.

Three Days Remain For Candidates To File Expenditures

Only three days remain for candidates in the general election to file statements of expense with the Fayette County Board of Elections.

All candidates, whether they were write-ins or whether their names appeared on the ballots, must file a statement of expenditures not later than 6:30 P. M. November 18 (Friday). Those who had no expenses in the election must file a statement to this effect.

To date less than one third of the candidates have filed with the Board of Elections. Filings must be made or candidates cannot be certified by the board.
